CGE ENGAGES KEY STAKEHOLDERS ON THE EFFECTIVENESS OF GENDER FOCAL PERSONS IN SOUTH AFRICA

The Commission for Gender Equality (CGE) will host a policy dialogue to promote evidence-informed policymaking through discussions of key issues and evidence emerging from the findings and recommendations of one of its reports titled: "Assessing the Effectiveness of Gender Focal Persons in South Africa: Government's Response to the CGE Findings and Recommendation" (2022/23).

It is through this initiative that a platform is created to develop policy and programming actions with stakeholders, as well as to enhance and/or create mechanisms for accountability, monitoring and evaluation.

Policy dialogues are a crucial initiative of the Commission. The Policy and Research Department plays a key role in identifying, analysing, and effectively communicating various issues that hinder the realisation of gender equality in the country through these dialogues.

The CGE invites members of the media to the engagement with key stakeholders
